

AMY NORDDRUM

News Editor, IEEE Spectrum | Aug 2017 –

Oversee network of freelance contributors, assign and edit online stories, plan and produce monthly news section for print magazine, manage news budget, pitch and execute revenue-generating online projects, develop social media strategy.

Associate Editor, IEEE Spectrum | Feb 2016 – Aug 2017

Wrote and edited news and feature stories about telecommunications and wireless technology.

Science Journalist, International Business Times | Jan 2015 – Feb 2016

Led science coverage at a fast-growing digital publication.

Media Internships

2014 | Scientific American

2014 | InsideClimate News

2014 | Psychology Today

Communications Coordinator, Downtown Association of Fairbanks | 2011 – 2013

Managed all nonprofit public and member communications, oversaw social media, wrote and edited hundreds of articles about local businesses.

On-Air Personality, Last Frontier Media | 2012 – 2013

Hosted daily radio show in Fairbanks, Alaska.

Education

2021 (expected) | MBA

Stern School of Business

New York University

2018 | ASME Scholarship Recipient

Yale Publishing Course — Leadership Strategies in Magazine and Digital Media

Yale School of Management

2014 | M.A. in Journalism

Science, Health, and Environmental Reporting Program

New York University

2010 | B.S. in Journalism

Ohio University

Activities

Contributor, Science Friday radio show

Chair, Grants Committee, National Association of Science Writers

Member, Online News Association

Member, American Society of Magazine Editors